J. R. LOVE M.L.A. OPENS CAMPAIGN IN U.F. CAUSE

On the evening of Tuesday the 15th Mr J. R. Love, the new farmer member of the Provincial Parliament, for Battle River Riding, addressed a well attended meeting of the members of Green Meadows U.F.A., and others; at Green Meadows School house.

In his opening remarks Mr. Love recounted some of his experiences in Scotland, whilst on leave during his active service at the front. He told amongst other things how the old Scottish clans, did their business, agricultural and commercial, with one another, by barter, in the early days before money was known.

From this he led to a short summary of the origin and history of the industrial system, from the time until the present day, emphasizing the point that all industry and commerce, had at the beginning, the fundamental idea of a 'square deal' and fair exchange.

Mr. Love then discussed Canada's rural problems, in regard to trade and commerce, and particularly the problem of Free Trade or Protection which is the main issue before us at present. In talking upon Reciprocity with the United States, the speaker sketched briefly the life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier the great exponent of the industrial system, and pointed out the qualities and noble character of the great Liberal statesman who had "consecrated his life to making Canada a nation. It is men like Laurier, he said, who are needed today with the interests of Canada at heart 'irrespective of party or creed'."

In Laurier's time Reciprocity had been defeated not from without but by the influence of the big manufacturers in the ranks of the Liberal Party itself.

Today as then, Canada's need was for bigger markets and today the need was very much greater. One solution of the problem was the settlement of the West, which is one logical outlet for Eastern products. In so much as this was true the problems and needs of the West are the problems and needs of Canada. We needed men with the Western viewpoint, men who could understand these problems would have to be, not politicians, but statesmen.

Mr. Love cited the enormous growth of our exportations since ten years ago and urgent demand for greater markets. Could we have these without injury to established markets?

Canada was now no longer an infant nation. In 1918 she was the third largest exporter in the world. The annexation by the U.S.A. talk was ridiculous.

Years ago Sir John A. Macdonald declared that the infant industries of Canada needed protection, but strange as it may, since that time those infant industries in spite of the Protection had not grown so much as we had expected.

In one respect they had been milk calves being fed too much milk. Profits from the cows were all going to the calves. It is time these industrial calves were weaned and taught to rustle. Like calves they would hawl but would be better for it.

An example of the beneficial effect of an industry having to rustle for its

Great Interest Displayed At Farmers Meetings

The first round of the political contest has been staged during the past week by a series of meetings held in the rural parts of the district. These are a most favorable hearing given to the speeches of Mr Love, in favor of Mr H. E. Spencer, the U. F. nominee and candidate.

Commencing at Bull Creek, Monday afternoon, Nov. 14th, meetings were held at S. Jean Baptiste that evening. At Killarney and Green Meadows, Tuesday, Sulphur Springs and Ribstone, Wednesday, Bloomington and Prospect Valley, Thursday Roray and Edginglassie, Friday, Prosperity and Airlie, Saturday.

Mr Love was conducted from place to place by Mr J. Toth the first three days and by Mr Grover Lassell the latter three days.

MR. LOVE SPEAKS AT LEALHOLME U.F.A.

A well attended meeting was held in Prosperity School house on Saturday afternoon when Mr. Love spoke in the interests of Mr. Spencer U.F.A. Candidate in the forthcoming federal election. Mr. Love spoke on protection from the farmers' standpoint, outlining the protection that is practised in Canada today and why we must have a gradual reduction in tariff duties and the adoption of free trade.

Three Candidates Now Seeking The Voter's Favor

The ballot for the forthcoming election will read as follows:—

- 1 Henry V. Fieldhouse
- 2 John W. G. Morrison
- 3 Henry E. Spencer

The date of the election is December 6th.

The places of polling are shown on the proclamation.

Nominations of candidates for the forthcoming election now number now number three. H. V. Fieldhouse, barrister, of Walwhright, J. W. G. Morrison, barrister, of Vermilion, H. E. Spencer, farmer, of Edgerton.

The nomination of H. V. Fieldhouse was decided upon at a Liberal convention held in Edmonton, Monday, at which were present a number of delegates from various parts of the constituency. Mr. Fieldhouse having been called in Edmonton because of the difficulty of local transportation through poor rail service and the fact that he was unable to attend. He was the first to be called in. He was the first to be called in. He was the first to be called in.

The three nomination papers duly filled in have been handed to the returning officer at Walwhright.

Robert McEwen met with a most unfortunate accident Saturday last. Whilst leading out a team from G. Leggett's stable a mare kicked him, giving him a very mean gash across the nose between the eyes. Leggett brought him in to receive doctor's care, and we understand McEwen is making good progress to recovery.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.I. was held in the rest room on Saturday Nov. 12th. The President presided. After a lengthy discussion it was decided by a majority vote to close the rest room for the present.

After supper the Rev. Mitchellson, opened the program by a short address, which was much appreciated. The More The Merrier (Continued)

"The conflict deepens, on ye braves", we now have a 'Stick of Dinamite', a 'Wissacre', and a 'Man in the Fig', (beg pardon, 'Field') all arrayed in their best literary style against what looks to us like one lone spokesman for that government which we all put in with the glare of the trumpet and patriotic fervour, a few short years ago.

But since then a-Holler-than-thou-if-you-don't-make-me-proge-it party has arisen, and the way so many of those erstwhile champions have taken its tenets to their bosom, we can't help wondering if there isn't a whole lot more of the Pharisee than the farmer about some of them. All the world loves a true farmer, but a Pharisee posing as a farmer is a pseudo affair which we have no use for. And for this reason, we make bold to declare our preference for the real farmer, who, if he is hard, also hits fair—who has the courage of his convictions, and the ability to carry out his promises, who avoids visionary theories and sticks to practical facts, whose vision is Dominion wide—not provincial—who, we venture to assert, is more of the statesman in his line than finger than all the rest have put together, whose aim is constructive, not destructive, and lastly, who has offered a real workable solution to the farmer for his marketing troubles, in the Government Wheat Board, a scheme which even Jas. Stewart says is preferable to the compulsory wheat pool idea.

'Man in the Field' claims that a purely agriculture riding can be adequately represented by a farmer. Certainly it can, but not in the way the P.F.s elect their men, where in more than one case the nomination has gone to third choice because there was jealousy and ill-feeling rampant against the men whose experience and knowledge made them the logical choice. Being of farmer stock myself, and proud of it, I'd be the last one to deny that farmers had brains of a legislative order, given the needed training, but where in the name of good farming has the average farmer got the time to travel? True, there are exceptions, but we don't seem to have the sense to know them, when they present themselves, for political favors, as yet we show an inclination to mistake the echo, for the real thing. Look at Gould, of Assiniboine, for instance—Got up in parliament,—made a virulent attack on the Wheat Board—and said he was going to paper his shack with his participation tickets. I'll tell you frankly a man of his type would never have been asked to leave his little wooden hut, if the farmer electors had been on to their job.

Maybe though if I had known of the presence is our agricultural riding of three such agrarian Master-minds as our opponents, I would have wobbled in my assertion. Let's hope the business of farming wasn't held up for the sake of administering this so necessary 'blowing-up' But may I remind Master-mind the 3rd that in our purely agricultural riding, we have shop keepers, tradesmen, doctors, and all varieties of professional men, and the fact that they are in the minority should by rights only make our 'equity' professing U.P.s

more considerate of them.

But we find this class, by the U.F.P. provincial platform cut off from any consideration—the elected member being responsible to the U.F.P. political convention only.

"Hub," you say, "The towns would not be here if it weren't for us farmers, we keep 'em." Did-you ever consider what it would be like to live out in this West, with no store nearer than Estin's, the Homesteaders' friend, (so-called).

One of these days we'll wake up to the fact that the man who helped to build up the West, was not old T. Eaton with his cash with order trade, but the local man who was big spirited enough to let us trade on our face till the financial clouds cleared a little.

Perhaps we were paid for it, one way, but in another way he bestowed a benefit worth more than money. The trouble with some of us is, when we start to count up our blessings, we add the wrong column. Better help the townsman to fight for a reduction in transportation and distribution charges, against the oppression of labor, as well as capital, rather than treat him as an outsider, even to the extent of practically dis-enfranchising him.

Then as regards this campaign funds cry we own it is perfectly legitimate for an honest man to 'have his doots' when he sees a known crook with a huge 'roll.' But when it comes to the pot commenting so unanimously over the blackness of the kettle, then we can't help noticing the spite behind the cry, rather than the truth of it. It is a matter of common comment back East, that the funds of the Farmers' trading company are used, as required, for the Farmers' campaign funds. More than that Crerar himself has not denied it, though we don't doubt he'd just love to take out another injunction against those who say it.

Then again, what do you make of the well-known fact that Crerar is being opposed in his own constituency of Marquette by a well-known Grain-grower, who, in turn, is being supported by stalwarts of the U.F.M. party? Just jealousy? Well, maybe! But then again it may also be they know him to well to trust him. It's a matter of opinion.

'Man in the Field' says, Crerar is the only one who has any plans in the farmers' interest, meaning the Wheat Board.

In this case, why do we find E. A. Partridge, secretary of W. B. mittie repudiating his leadership, because he (Crerar) fails to come across on the subject of a Wheat Board, "Crerar, the farmers' leader—God save the mark—is hoisted to the U.—G. G." thus E. A. Partridge, comments on his silence. True he has to fight made a vague announcement that he favors a co-operative wheat Board, presumably an annex to the U.G.G! As the 'Man in the Field' so vigorously remarks 'Ye Gods, what next!' Isn't one U.G.G. enough to have around, dividing up our legitimate dividends into big salaries and campaign funds, without ever saying 'by your leave'.

Then again if 'The Man in the Fields' feels that free trade is the 'rule Mackay' he is ahead of his leader, who is getting more conservative in his 'free trade' promises, all the time. He is falling into the mistake which he says do make howling savages, or Chinamen of us all, viz, the belief that no idea is good unless it originated in our Homeland. As I said before, what Britain can do with impunity, can only be done by Canada at her peril. Perhaps some day when we grow up, and need to import our food instead of export it, we may call on the 'Man in the Fields' for a motion on free trade the 'Fields' for a motion on free trade meantime he had better suppress his philanthropic leanings, same as his Farmer leader is doing.

The district against 'Crazy Conservatism' closes with a warning to all good citizens to take the U.F.P. shilling, and join the forces of 'Equity,' unheeding of the backsliders—ahem— and renegades—oh, dear us!—and of everything else that's bad.

We notice he fits wide of the real explanation, i.e., that we don't reckon it disloyalty, or renegacy, which makes us refuse to vote for a 'close' coporation against our better judgement—that we scorn to wave the flag of 'equity' while carrying a special privilege policy in our pocket,—and we refuse to return a party loaded down with trade to power, just to see what will happen.

But walk up, ladies and gentlemen, don't mind us, we're merely the miserable minority that's bucking the latest millennium. Walk up, and sample the latest 15' carat gold Pol. idol. You don't notice that its feet are of clay, so long as you keep your eyes tight shut.

for years to get some product that would eradicate those hungry grubs from the stomach and intestines of the animals, with the result that "Saw Shot" capsules are doing the work.

We sold them to quite a few farmers here last year and in nearly every case the purchaser was more than satisfied with results.

We have them again and would suggest your treating your horses as early as possible, the earlier the more good you can expect the remedy to do. $5.00 trial 8 boxes, $3.00 treats four. Those that bought the gun last year need only buy the capsules this year, which will save you 75 cents.

The Rebekahs arrived at the Hall at half past nine, laden with various good things to eat. Tea and coffee were soon made and tables laid, and a very happy party sat down and enjoyed the repast.

Some musical items and recitations followed, and the evening closed with many appreciative remarks from the Oddfellows, and a toast to the ladies.

A Word To The Wise

(Contributed)

Seems up to me to explain why I am throwing bricks at Crerar and U. G. organizations in general, well, there are a lot of reasons, but I'll give a few.

Away back in T. Crearer's farmer days when the treatment he got at the local elevators made him vow a deep vow of revenge, in the days when wheat was $50c, and the thresh-bill 8c, when shoes were around $2.25, and flour $3.00 was the farmer as badly off then in respect to 'produce prices' versus 'the cost of living and production' as he is in this year of 1921, with a fully pledged corporation size farmers' grain and trading company, in full swing, presumably looking after his interest?

My friend gives Crerar credit for being a good business man? Does he suppose Crerar in those old days, would have considered the present net results of our benefits to be satisfactory, even with his (at that time) 'green' sense of good business?

I'm sure he wouldn't

Can you be surprised therefore that some of us, who refuse to turn in our reasoning powers with our dollar, view the present state of affairs, and wonder if, after all, the mighty difference the farmers' company was going to effect for us, is that we've adopted a corner of the 'Grain Exchange, formerly known as 'that den of infamy' and it is our duty as shareholders to hide the fact from a curious public by not asking for too many embarrassing explanations.

I have before me a huge sheet of statements culled from Hansard and other sources by our vindictive friend 'The Guide'. It is an attempt to prove to the satisfaction of the U.G.G. shareholders that everything is lit white in the transactions of the U. G. G., that no false bottoms were used, that, in probity of the U.G.G. or its officials is doing it for a sinister end and is a plain liar.

It says nothing of course of the tough grain which after being metamorphosed at the terminals becomes No. 1, and grows in bushelage, without any accruing benefit to the farmer owner.

It makes no mention of hushing-up tips to government inspectors, and weigh men, etc. It is a most disempowering document after reading the sarcastic sheet one wonders if it was worth paying good money for - for of course the cost is coming off the shareholder again, the same as the lawyers fees for fighting the grain probe. I'm not sure that I can blame the U.G.G. altogether for the general muddle it seems to be in. If we as shareholders set up our company and refuse to recognize any mistakes in connection with it, but spend our time railing at the government, the railway systems, or the manufacturers, then we were just asking to be taken advantage of, and the human nature companies as well as in individuals companies as in individuals played up to our attitude. If my friend finds in Tom Crerar a more reliable man to head a government than it's present Head, then he certainly ought to give him his support, but in view of what some more of us think he shouldn't be too much surprised over Melchior's occasional little outbursts or sarcasm over the sanctimonious attitude of the Progressive Party. He is lawyer enough, he knows too much of human

Dr. J. B. Little Dies Suddenly

Many will regret to learn of the sudden demise of Dr. J. B. Little, who was one of the original 'old-timers' of Wainwright. The deceased gentleman who has been located with his family at Onoway, Alta. for some time, retired to bed on Monday evening in his usual apparent good health, but during the night he passed away very suddenly.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Edmonton Cemetery, of Dr. James A. Little, whose death took place at Onoway. Many friends gathered to pay their tribute and last respects to the deceased, who was well known in Edmonton, and who, up to the time of his death, was in charge of the Onoway hospital. The body was borne to the graveside by members of the medical professions and intimate friends of the deceased. Dr. Allen, Dr. Harrison, and Dr. Middlemass of Wainwright; Mr. Pointer, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Hughes of Onoway, acted as pallbearers. Rev. A. Lloyd, Rev. Bachus, Rev. Priestly, Rev. As a tribute to Dr. Little, the flags on the city hospital were flown at half-mast. Interment was made in Edmonton cemetery.

self was the Binder Twine Industry of Canada, which when Protection was removed had "bawled" loudly but was now flourishing and exporting enormous amounts of twine to various countries. It was the same with Binders and Mowers. These also had shown the good effects of too much Protection. Last year we exported 14,000 binders. In all we had exported $12,000,000 of agricultural implements. The president of Massey Harris Ltd. declared that if we could manufacture Farm Machinery cheaper in Canada than in the States, Why the need of Protection?
Free trade will not cause unemployment say the heads of Industrial Plants.

Comparison with the Old Country is out of place in any argument for Protection for Canada.

The old Corn Laws of Britain with the heavy duty on imported wheat had made fortunes, not for the ordinary farmer or the working man but for the rich land owners.

Several of these laws had not ruined agriculture in Britain but had put it on its feet.

Free Trade puts industry in its natural stand instead of creating an artificial industrial system.

Mr. Love showed plainly and logically the future of protection in Germany and how it had been one of the main reasons for the Great War. Free Trade was a protection against war. The wealth owned by the world in 1914 which had taken centuries to build up was destroyed in four years. We farmers with our enormous increase of agricultural exports since the war are dependent upon an impoverished Europe for a market and we have to take the low prices which Europe can give us.

Why then should we have to sell in this low market and be compelled to buy in the high priced Canadian market alone. We should be able to buy where we sell.

If the farmers have to sell below cost in order that trade conditions may become normal again, why not the manufacturers also? Should they not share in the necessary sacrifice.

Mr. Love showed how Protection creates monopolies, and these by system of closer shops in order to keep up prices cause unemployment. The leather industry, to day was employing 4,000 men less than in 1910. Industries like cows should not be reckoned by their numbers but by producers. We should eliminate the non-producers.

Agriculture is the "best Cow," that Canada has, yet only 14 per cent of arable land is under cultivation. The future of Canada depends mainly on agriculture. So the agricultural movement cannot be a selfish one.

Mr. Love in his concluding remarks spoke with admiration of the character of Mr. Spencer the Farmers' Candidate for Battle River Riding in the forthcoming Dominion Elections. He was a man to be depended upon.

The speaker referred to the "Group System" of government as put forward by Mr. Woods. As Mr. Woods had himself said it was still in the experimental stage but the principle involved, was one which in some form or other was the inevitable solution of our present administrative problem.

Mr. Love concluded his most interesting address by expressing his belief in the various U.F.A. Locals as being great powers for good in the communities. He showed how an idea inaugurated by some obscure member in a Local could spread until at length it came before the whole country.

The meeting came to an end by a most hearty vote of thanks to the speaker, for his really brilliant address.

Alberta Gov't To Rigidly Enforce The Liquor Laws

What policy to follow in regard to the better enforcement of the Alberta Liquor act is a problem giving the not yet taken the question up in cabinet for the final adoption of a course of action Premier Greenfield and Attorney-General J. E. Brownlee have been giving the matter serious thought for several weeks and have been confronted with a multitude of viewpoints in their numerous discussions with private individuals and various organizations, and with their investigation of the working out of prohibition systems in the other provinces.

It is understood that the liquor problem will be one of the first taken up by Premier Greenfield and his cabinet now that the southern relief situation is being dealt with by the newly appointed survey board. Probably this Discussion on the framing of a definite vote for prohibition enforcement will be begun during the next week or ten days.

So far as can be learned the ultimate decision of the government is likely to be for an attempt at much more rigid enforcement of the existing liquor laws without radical changes, excepting possibly a limitation of monthly prescription forms to the doctors and a more thorough check on the distribution of liquor through the drug stores.

The advisability of holding a plebiscite on the question of prohibition has not been overlooked by the government but it now appears unlikely that such a vote will be taken for a time at least. Opinion seems to favor a most uncompromising effort at enforcement of the present statutes first.

It is known that the pressure which has existed for some months in the province to have Alberta adopt the British Columbia system of liquor control, has decreased materially within the last month or so, and there is now an agitation under way to urge the government to adopt the Quebec system of government control of the "hard" liquors and allow the general sale of beers and light wines. However, it seems safe to say that this policy will not eventually be endorsed by the government.

As the situation stands to-day all indications point to thorough and systematic effort to enforce the existing legislation before any drastic alteration is proposed in the liquor act.

It is predicted that the coming winter will be a hard one. Thousands of people will suffer from the cold weather. The farmers can keep hot thinking of the low price of grain and stock and the high prices of what they purchase.

Mrs. R. Newstead and family have gone to Eastern Canada for the winter.

Mr. Luke Heath has gone to Western Washington U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery have returned from visiting friends in the Provost district.

A dance was held in the school-house on the evening of 16th in honor of Miss Milne, who is leaving for Victoria, B.C. There was a large crowd and a very pleasant evening was spent.

During the evening Miss Milne was presented with a gold brooch as a remembrance from her friends in Airle district. The duty of making the presentation was performed by Mr. F. Cargill, who suitably expressed the good wishes of the donors.

Miss Milne intends to return in the spring and resume teaching at Airle. Mr. Pratt Perry will teach at Airle during the winter months.

ANNUAL MEETING OF AIRLIE ATHLETIC CLUB

The meeting was called to order by President J. A. Craddock. Mr. W. J. Harris acted as secretary pro tem, and the financial statement was read and accepted.

Moved that J. Craddock and F. Cargill be a committee to interview Chauvin Athletic Sports committee as to why we have not received prize for football game on July 6. Carried. The following officers were elected for the year 1922:-

President: J. A. Craddock
Vice-president: Walter Scott
Secretary-treasurer: Maxwell Scott
Moved by Maxwell Scott and seconded by C. R. Mathieson; that the athletic club co-operate with the U. F. A. and school trustees to raise funds to enlarge the school barn. Carried.

POLITICAL MEETING

A political meeting was held in the Airle school, Saturday evening. Mr. Craddock, chairman, introduced Mr. J. R. Love to the audience. Mr. Love gave a very good address on the present state of politics, explaining why the farmers should support the Progressive party. Free Tariff was the main theme. Some manufacturing industries had been enjoying the Protective Tariff for years and should now be in a position to compete in the world's market.

Infant manufacturing industries might need protection. While some industries would have to be weaned from protection gradually.

Mr. Love expressed his great faith in Henry E. Spencer, the U.F. candidate for Battle River riding, saying Spencer was a capable conscientious man for whom every one should vote.

Mr. Love was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for the masterful manner in which he gave his address. After a social half-hour the meeting came to a close by singing the National Anthem.

A very pleasing ceremony took place at Greenglade church service on Sunday Nov. 20th when Miss Dunlop the teacher of Greenglade school, in the name of the children, presented Mr. Mitchelson with the sum of $20 to purchase whatever article he required.

The following is the address:

Dear Mr. Mitchelson, we the boys and girls of the Greenglade school, along with our teacher Miss Dunlop, wish you to accept this little gift, and in addition to this, we wish to extend our heartfelt wishes, for a holiday and a happy reunion with your daughter, and later a Merry Christmas.

Mr. Mitchelson thanked them all for their thoughtfulness in giving him such a nice gift, he said he felt his unworthiness of such a token of their expressions, he said he had just bought two expensive books but he would put it to the purchasing of winter gifts.

Mock Parliament Held By Scholars Of Chauvin H.S.

On Friday last the H.S. held a very interesting imitation of a real parliament. On the previous day the students voted for a premier for the event, the labor party winning out. Governor General was ushered in by the Black Rod. He read the address in English and French and then went away. Then upon motion of the Premier, the parliament chose Mr. D'Albertanion as speaker. The speaker's with a short resume of their speeches were:

ADVERTISE—IT PAYS

Heather Richardson, farmer: We of the farmers' party, are opposed to the present Labor Government because of the low price of wheat. Imagine wheat at 70 cents which is less than before the war, while other commodities are much dearer.

Grethen Richardson, Liberal: The Liberals past record is really argument enough. Besides its time for a change. The conservatives want protection, the farmers want free trade, hence vote for the liberals and strike a happy medium. The conservatives past record is enough for them. The labor party is all right in its place, but it lets its grievances make it radical. Everybody knows what the farmers are, (sarcasm).

Ina Armour, Conservative: One of planks is that the natural resources will be handed over to any province desiring to control them. This will mean a great deal to Alberta. New factories will spring up and unemployment will be lessened.

William Ellis, Labor and minister of Finance: Our past record is sufficient. The state governs the actions of the individual, hence it certainly is the duty of that state to see that every one of its citizens is provided with a sufficient livelihood.

Ethel Goode, Farmer: Our party wags the wheat board. Cut off the stock exchange gamblers. Let the farmer get full value for his labor.

Emma Hass, Liberal: Give us protection but only in moderate doses, McJenkinson is too strong, Cretarism is too weak. Strike the happy medium, that's we.

Eunice Hass, Conservative: Our main planks are to: revise the tariff, to encourage the establishment of new industries, the taxation of luxuries and not of food. The liberals never while in office had the great problems to confront that we did during the great war.

Ellen Ellis, labor, prime minister: The most important items on our agenda are: the settling of differences between employers and employees, the eight hour day for all including farmers, and also the tide rich; the improvement of the sanitary conditions of mines and factories. As for labor being radical, is has just wakened up and begun to use its good common sense. Too many people, especially the rich, don't know how to use money.

The speaker, representing the Governor dissolved parliament and new elections were held. No one was permitted to vote the same ticket as in the previous election. The Liberals headed by Emma Hass whipped the poll, and as all change their political allegiance each session, the new premier is Eunice Hass who falls heir to the Liberal banner for the ensuing week.

nature and its frailties.

The late world war has a lot to do with our present plight, of course. But what we object to in a United Concern, is the officials of it, and their salaries flourishing like green bay trees, while the simple shareholder stands the guff of fallen markets, H. C. L. and frozen credits. (Speaking about frozen credits, if my friend feels able to stand a financial stringency besides which the present hard time is merely a gentle squeeze, then, and then only, will he be safe in voting the Progressive party in power: "Verbum sat sapienti," in common lingo "nuff said."

Then as regards the gentle reminder that one "should be kind to H. W. OUR LITTLE ADS DO BIG WORK

Wood—that he is an old man, and his view is backward instead of forward"—well—if he is as old and backward-gazing as to be considered exempt from criticism, and merely an object to kindly sympathy, what business has he to be posing as the Head author of the Alberta Progressives?

That's pretty hard on his followers, seeing that a physical impossibility to make progress going backwards. Don't you know that Mr Wood is firmly convinced that he has got a brand new tophus idea, and he is doubtless 'real' sorry for all benighted mortals—including Dr. Michael Clark—who persist in thinking he must have found his new idea on the scrapheap of Junkerism.

Then between ourselves, Re Sandy McTavish on women in politics. Don't follow Sandy too closely, even if he is a Gladstone Liberal, for even a Gladstone Liberal has been known to talk through his hat, and—have had to eat his words afterwards! Even so Sandy who has since made a handsome apology, for his pronouncement on women in politics, said "the didn't mean it and all that!" The joke is—perfectly agree with him (except the husband part) but needs must when inclination drives.

Then regarding the Premier's stony front on the restoration of wheat board—Turn the pages of Hansard to profit, and find when the question of renewing the Board came on tapis, whether the man who ought to have championed its renewal did anything, or said anything in favor. I think you'll find he didn't. 'Twas a notable silence he kept., notable enough to be commented on by the press, at the time. Why? Was it because the strictures of the Board hampered the U.G.G in some of its little tricks?

A little bird has whispered that it was! At any rate we have it on the official authority that all the duration of the W. B., not one approving letter came from the West, amongst dozens of dis-approving. After its abolition, approvals began coming in from individual farmers, but when the Farmers' leader in parliament made no fuss about it, either in or out of the House, can't my friend see that no government could feel justified in again taking up such a stupendous undertaking without the unanimous approval of the agrarians through their chosen spokesman? Even yet, he seems fonder of splitting hairs on new methods of revenue making than in devising a means of marketing wheat, rather he prefers to wet-blanket the Premier's effort by crying Political wheat pool.

Like our U.F. candidate Mr Spencer, he has a touching belief in the loving kindness of the U.S., if we'd be sufficiently trusting to let down our tariff walls. Doubtless such of that 100,000,000 would enjoy dumping their surplus butter and beef, eggs and grain over the border, but what of the Canadian farmer?

In sheer self-defense he'd have to start growing stuff on the other side of the line. Mr Spencer says conditions have caused over a million farmers to leave the country. Possibly—the climate is rather trying! at times for successful raising of crops, but he should worry,—a little taste of his antidote, and he'll see them all go!

Even a little reciprocity is a dangerous thing when your neighbour has 100 millions of a population and you have under ten million. But of course if one is intent on committing national suicide one may as well take a short cut and be over with it, by voting for free trade, or as amended—for tariff-tinkering.

RULES

1. All exhibitors must be members of Chauvin Agricultural Society.

2. In the case of wheat, oats, barley, and rye, the exhibitor must have for sale, or be retaining for seed on his own farm, at least 50 bushels of wheat, oats, barley, and rye, 5 bushels of potatoes, 25 bushels of flax.

3. In classes 1 to 13 inclusive one bushel of seed shall be shown; in classes 14 to 17, one-half bushel. All exhibits of seed shall be held to be representative of the total quantity of such seed offered for sale by the exhibitor.

4. No premium shall be awarded on exhibits that contain impurities, in the opinion of the judge, are of noxious nature.

5. No exhibitor shall make more than one entry in any class.

6. All samples of seed must be labelled, after judging, with the name and address of the exhibitor, the name of the variety, the amount of seed for sale, and selling price.

7. The committee in conjunction with the judges reserve the right to debar any exhibit on which, in their judgment, a prohibitive price is placed.

8. Any exhibitor making entry under any of the above classes thereby guarantees that his exhibit is a fair sample of the seed he has for sale and that the said sample has not been hand picked.

9. Before prizes are paid, each exhibitor will be required to certify that his exhibit strictly complies with regulation. In case of failure to do so the next in order will be awarded the prize.

10. In the event of less than three entries in any class, first or other prizes will only be awarded at the discretion of the judge.

11. Poultry exhibits shall consist of two females and one male. Ducks, Geese and Turkeys, one each.

12. All poultry must be exhibited in tight bottom crates, such that the judge may be able to remove the birds.

13. Entry fee shall be ten per cent of amount of first prize.
